1. It is expressly agreed that the members of the WCS Organizing Committee for WCS Courses, Workshops and, their legal representatives, directors and employees, and their agents, officers and services, shall not be liable for any loss, injury or damage of any kind whatsoever suffered directly or indirectly by the person, possession or property of any participant or other person during or in connection with the events on the program or any other activities of the WCS Courses, Workshops and Congresses for any reason whatsoever no matter howsoever caused. WCS declines any and all liability for any damages/injuries claimed against it by any Course, or Workshop attendees during and after training, and for all claims which may arise by attendees or their patients as a result of using the technique, the device and/or the medication discussed or demonstrated during the course.
2. WCS main goal is patient safety and patient satisfaction that can be achieved only through a complete commitment of the physician to comprehensive education and training. To that end, WCS mission is to provide nurses and doctors with advance knowledge in this field and offer the highest quality of patient care.
3. As an educational program, WCS does not endorse, promote, or accept as best practice any opinions, ideas, procedures, medications or devices, whether presented in paper form, orally, or otherwise. Any subjective or objective ideas, papers, medications and devices presented during the WCS course are for educational purpose only and are not intended to represent the best method, the best procedure or the best medication and/or device that is appropriate for any given patient. Rather, the course illustrates an approach, vision and/or opinion of the faculty which may be helpful to course attendees if they face similar situations in their medical practice.
4. Some medications and/or medical devices demonstrated during the course or otherwise communicated to course participants may not have been cleared/approved by the FDA for the demonstrated use. The FDA has stated that such use of these medications/devices is the responsibility of the physician, who must determine the FDA clearance/approval status of each medication/device used in his/her clinical medical practice.
5. It is agreed that the WCS Organizing Committee for the WCS Courses and Workshops, and their agents and officers, reserve the right to cancel at any time any or all of the programmed or other activities if this should appear necessary as a result of events which are beyond their control or which they cannot reasonably be expected to influence or for which they are not responsible. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, such events shall include force majeure, government or other official regulations, natural disasters, strikes or any kind whatsoever, civil, international, or other crises, or any other unforeseen occurrence. Decisions regarding the necessity for such cancellation shall be taken by the Organizing Committee, or their agents, at their sole discretion and shall be final.
6. Photography/Audio/Visual/Recording is strictly prohibited. Anyone found photographing or recording without authorization will be required to immediately surrender the recording media and will be expelled from the event without reimbursement.
7. Fee paid is nonrefundable however, we allow re scheduling of courses.
8. Faculty, Speakers and Topics may be changed by WCS without notice.

It is expressly agreed that WCS can use photographs and/or video images taken, including, and not limited to courses, workshops, or conferences. These image(s) may be published in any of WCS communication materials, channels, and collaterals for publicity purposes and in connection with any of WCS training partners' publicity purposes.
